Clay L. Shaw, the New Orleans businessman who was unsuccessfully prosecuted by District Attorney Jim Garrison on charges of conspiring to kill President Kennedy, has taken a new job. Mayor Moon Landrieu of New Orleans named him manager of a $2.5-million renovation of the city's historic French Market. Mr. Shaw has been a member of the French Market Board for six months.

•N.Y.T. 12/16